Keyword children's rights | competence of the Member States | EUROPEAN UNION | European Union law | gender equality | health | international law | LAW | reproductive health | right of asylum | right to physical integrity | rights and freedoms | sexual mutilation | social affairs | SOCIAL QUESTIONS | violence | women's rights

Summary As part of broader efforts to combat all forms of violence against women and girls, the European Union (EU) is committed to working collectively to eradicate female genital mutilation (FGM) and to supporting its Member States' efforts in this field. The European Commission assesses EU measures to combat FGM every year, on or around 6 February – the International Day of Zero Tolerance for Female Genital Mutilation. This publication is a further update of an 'at a glance' note originally published in January 2015.
